Methodists challenged at 100th anniversary

by JANE POLZIN

"For tomorrows, look for Christ alive in the world," was the challenge given the United Methodist Church of Antioch during services celebrating its centennial anniversary.

"And when you find Christ alive, recognize Him and find joy in doing so," said Bishop Paul A. Washburn at the morning worship service.

Over 200 people attended the day of special services on Thanksgiving Sunday, Nov. 18, in the newly restored 78-year-old church. Both the sanctuary and overflow rooms were filled to capacity.

WASHBURN SPOKE of present world conditions as "a time of hurtful divisions. There is a tendency to look upon divisions as problems rather than opportunities," he said, adding that they are "in violation of God's plan."

The service opened with "Autumn" Chaminade, an organ prelude played by Church Organist Mabel Lou Weber, followed by "Come, O Thou God of Grace" sung by the congregation.

The Rev. Stephen Williams, pastor of the church, presented a greeting to the members and friends of the congregation, "with profound thanksgiving for all that we have been, are and hope to be."

He expressed the church's awareness of its spiritual identity and to whom it belongs.

AN "OLD IRISH Blessing" was sung by Mary Chris LaKome and prayers for the church and people of God were said.

The Sanctuary Choir, under the direction of Ken Smouse, sang the anthem "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem" and an offering for the Cambodian Relief Effort was presented.

The congregation joined the choir in singing the Doxology, and a prayer of dedication was said by the assembly.

The Rev. Robert Schumm, district superintendent, presented the lesson, reading Colossians 1:1-20.

THE BISHOP presented a sermon, "Our Underlying Unity," in which he spoke of the growth of the church. Like a person, he explained, the church also grows, first being dependent like a child, then independent and finally interdependent.

In closing, the hymn "The Church's One Foundation" was sung and the passing of the peace given.

The benediction and charge were bestowed by the bishop, with the choir responding in song, followed by an organ postlude, "Psalm of Glory."

A centennial dinner followed the service, with Dr. W.C. Petty presiding as master of ceremonies.

The special day of services, which began with an 8:30 a.m. early service, concluded with an afternoon mini centennial concert of anthems and hymns from the past and present.

Disbelief is reaction to Harry Robin's death

Antioch officials were among the Lake County officials, fellow Lake County Board members and Lake County residents who were shocked when it was learned that Lake County Board Chairman Harry Robin, 43, was found dead in his Ingleside home with a gunshot wound in his chest.

"It certainly is a blow to the county as a political leader," said Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields.

"He certainly was a great help to me and I'll miss him."

Fields said he was a help to the Antioch township, a man who was easy to talk to and who freely gave advice.

Robin's body was found by his son, Scott, a College of Lake County student. His daughter, Sherri, called the Fox Lake Police Dept. at 5:01 p.m., Monday, Nov. 19.

Fox Lake Rescue Squad went to the Robin home at 1006 Hickory Ln., Ingleside, where they found the body, dressed in nightclothes, in the basement utility room with a 12 gauge shotgun beside the body.

OFFICIALS WOULD not confirm it, but a friend of the family said there was a note in the home.

Funeral services are pending at the K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home, Fox Lake.

Lake County Sheriff's Deputy Kurt Proschwitz is in charge of the investigation. Lake County Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox will also conduct an inquest.

Robin was not in his county chairman's office in the Lake County Administration Building on Nov. 19. He was reportedly at home with a slight case of the flu.

"I'm shocked," commented Lake County Board Member Norman Geary of Grayslake. "Harry and I had been very close allies on the county board for the past six months. In fact, he had indicated to me we would run together for the county board seats this spring."

"The tragedy of his death is tempered by the knowledge that he is at some rest in the company of his wife," commented Lake County Board Member Harry Thomas of Libertyville. Robin's wife, Delores (Dee), died on Oct. 13, 1978.

"THE PEOPLE OF Lake County have suffered a loss that they will feel for a long time to come," Thomas said.

"All people in Grant Township are saddened. He had been a leader in Grant Township for many years," commented Lake County Board Member Joseph Tobolik of Ingleside.

"It's something you really can't figure out," said Lake County School Supt. William Thompson of Antioch. "His health was good and he looked good."

Robin was elected to the Lake County Board in 1969 and, before that, was a member of the Fox Lake Police Dept. for 2½ years and the sheriff's department for 7½ years.

Survivors include one son, Scott, at home; one daughter, Sherri at home; and one sister, Jean Hill of Ft. Atkinson, Wis.

Nov. 26 is hearing to improve downtown

The second public hearing on the proposed downtown special taxing district will be held at 8 p.m., Nov. 26, at the Antioch Fire Station.

The first hearing to determine whether or not a special service area should be formed was adjourned and will be continued at the Nov. 26 meeting.

Downtown traffic and parking improvements are expected to "increase retail activity and improve business in Antioch," said Harold Warren of Warren Associates, a municipal finance consulting firm during the first hearing.

The cost of improvements and how they will be paid will be the subject of one or two future hearings, said Village Atty. Andrew C. Lynch at the Oct. 29 hearing.

Barton-Aschman Associates, Inc., the firm hired by the village to make a traffic safety survey, recommended that the village seriously consider a plan for one way traffic flow through town by widening and improving Orchard, Hillside and Depot Sts.

Wapon equates teamwork with success for Sequoits

"A whole atmosphere of cooperation" has helped the Antioch Community High School Sequoits make their mark in the Northwest Suburban Conference and the state tournament this year.

That statement was made by Sequoit Coach Steve Wapon, who noted that the spirit displayed in the community — through signs displayed in windows, pep rallies and parades, has helped the team get excited.

The Sequoit's best factor is that the team is made up of "guys who play together and enjoy working as a team," Wapon said.

"The tremendous amount of improvement" is credited to "an extremely hard working coaching staff," that has worked side by side with the players, he said.

Cooperation by the high school administration and the athletic director has been "helped us head in the right direction."

"THE COMMUNITY support has been tremendous all the way through the season," he said.

"All these factors have been evident throughout the entire season."

Offensively, the Sequoits are "a power football team," which tries to make very few errors, he said.

A pressure-type defense which tries to cause the other team to make mistakes is a Sequoit characteristic, he said.

"THE TEAM IS exceptionally strong this year."

Informal practices at which the team "works hard when we have to work hard" have been successful, he said.

The team is sold on the idea that they only get out of their games what they put into practice. "If they practice well, they're going to do well. They've worked very, very hard."

It hasn't been all work for the team, he was quick to add. "We have fun, we goof around, we laugh. We work hard, but have a lot of fun mixed in between."

The luck of George Borovicka, druggist and Lew Van Patten, employe at the Williams store, in escaping from the waters of Lake Marie when their boat upset during duck hunting, continued this week when they recovered their hunting equipment from the bottom of the lake. ## Along the way with ANNIE MAE Congratulations to the Sequoits! Even though they aren't the state champs, they're Antioch's champs just the same. We sure are proud of our team.

Phil Schaub is back from vacation this week, as is Jim Fields. Jim even came back a day early to watch the Sequoit-Jacobs game.

The department of parks and recreation really showed the Sequoit Spirit. They were responsible for making sure the Go Sequoit signs were posted throughout town.

It's a boy! Nancy and Peter Leider had a son, Richard Donald, Nov. 10. He weighed eight pounds, two ounces when he was born at St. Therese Hospital.

Richard Donald was greeted at home by his brother Peter Eugene, 2½.

Pleased grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William France of Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leider of Ingleside.

The United Methodist Church of Antioch had a lovely centennial service. Everything seemed to go well — the luncheon, mini centennial concert and the congregation joining in song.

Happy birthday to Jim at the Antioch Pizza Shop. His special day was Nov. 14.

The new carpeting, plasterwork and restored pews look beautiful, which is a credit to all the people who've worked so hard.

Santa Claus is coming to town! The jolly old man will be arriving by fire truck Nov. 24. You can see him from 12:30-5 p.m. at White's Ice Cream Parlo, so bring your lists.

Saw George Hahn at the service, too. He's on crutches now, after his waterskiing accident and several operations, but seems to be doing well.

Hot chocolate and cookies, donated by the ice cream store, will be served.

The Dept. of Public Works put up Christmas decorations this week, which is really a big job. Just think, the holiday is just five weeks away.

The American International Clinic has opened its doors in the Heritage Building, 800 N. Main St. Doctors Philip Bickers, M.D. and Thomas Hesselink, M.D. will now be working at the former office of Dr. Martin Baurer, M.D.

A newspaper dedicated to people marching to their own drummers.

The group raised money for community service projects by opening the house for the last six days in October.

SEQUOIT'S AMONG STATE'S TOP FOUR

Wheaton breaks through Antioch's brick defense

Antioch Community High School's varsity football team played its last game of the season, with Wheaton North breaking through its brick wall defense in a state semi-final game 28-6.

The Northwest Suburban Conference co-championship team carried a seven game winning streak and an 8-3 record into the game against Wheaton, who was 10-1.

The loss was attributed to "mistakes of enthusiasm" and lost poising, said Antioch Coach Steve Wapon.

All year long the Sequoits had been poised, he said, adding that they just "lost composure."

THE SEQUOITS opened scoring with the help of a penalty and a 20 yard screen pass, followed by Flaschner scoring on a three yard touchdown run.

Wheaton took the kickoff and the conversion making the score 7-6.

Antioch mishandled three kickoffs during the game, Wapon said. Because of the trouble, Wheaton "ended up with good field position" and scored in the second quarter.

Three plays later they scored, with the halftime total 14-6.

In the second half, Antioch took the opening kickoff and fumbled, with Wheaton taking over on Antioch's 23 yard line, which was "a key play in the game," Wapon reported.

WHEN WHEATON scored, "it really took the wind out of our sails," he said, adding that Antioch was "all charged-up" after halftime.

Wheaton's excellent running backs and good blocking were tough competition, he said.

"Other than the first drive, Wheaton played excellent defense against Antioch," Wapon said.

Holding Denis Flaschner to 72 yards and 15 carries, 14/28 for Mark Pomazak and 6/16 for Greg Stevens, and the Falcons finding the hole in the team's defense, called the brick wall-by-players, were the deciding factors in the game.

"THE DEFENSE has been consistent all season long," said Defensive Coordinator

Ted DeRousse.

They really started believing in the brick wall concept, they believed in teamwork, the mortar of the wall, he added.

"They made goal line stands in games that were just fantastic," he said. "It was more than any coach could ask of any defense. Their brilliance in teamwork and giving of themselves" showed their dedication.

On pass receiving, Tim Plett had two catches for 18 yards, Pomazak had one for 20 and Steve Jennrich one for 19. Glen Flanagan had one/10, Terry Dewar one/two, three/11 for 38 yards for Sertic, two/three for 19 yards for Robert Heffernan, with Dan Behne one/one for 12 yards on a fake punt.

Wheaton had 22 first downs and Antioch had 13. Total offensive yards were 280 for Wheaton and 196 for Antioch.

DEFENSIVELY, "BOTH outside linebackers tried to run early and did a nice job on shutting out the outside," DeRousse said. James Mancuso and Behne were credited for their blocking.

Greg Schroeder and John Jackson, corners, also "did a fine job."

"A couple breaks cost us intensity," he said. "We play with a lot of desire. It hurt us a little, which is perfectly normal," he added.

Steve Wapon expressed thanks to the community for supporting the team throughout the season.

"I could not be prouder of the team and our extremely hard-working coaches, spotters, scouts, varsity assistants, the school, students and faculty," he added.

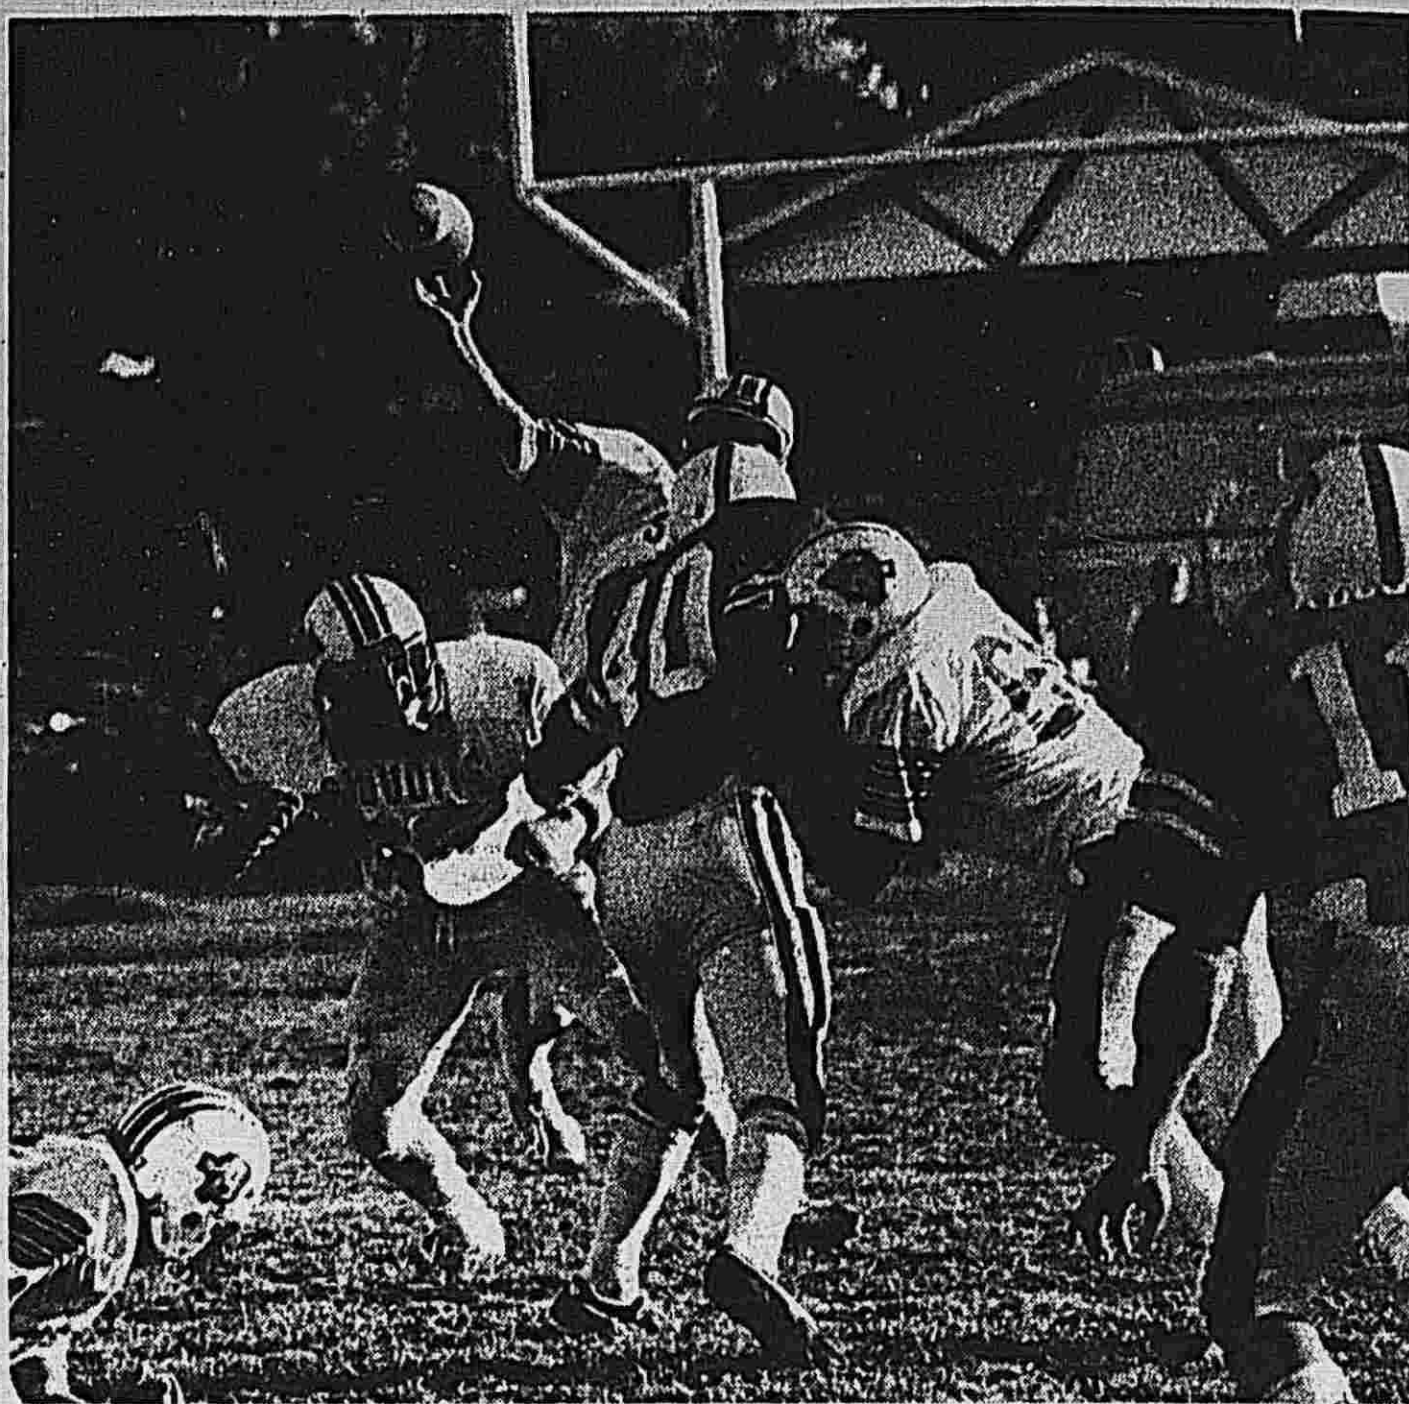

THE TEAM, which started out one and three "never quit working."

Because they "refused to give up," the Sequoits were able to beat an excellent Rockford Boylan and Jacobs teams.

"The intensity, heart and spirit that these kids had all year is phenomenal," he said.

Being among the top four teams of the state is "something they'll always be proud of," he added.

The key to the Sequoits success was improvement, coming back when they were down, he said.

Viking Americans tackle Nationals in all star game

The Antioch Viking Football season came to a close this weekend with the Viking Featherweight all-star game. It was a "well-played game" with the American Division victorious over the National Division 20-6, a spokesman said.

The cheerleading competition was held at halftime with the Seahawks team cheerleaders accumulating the most points.

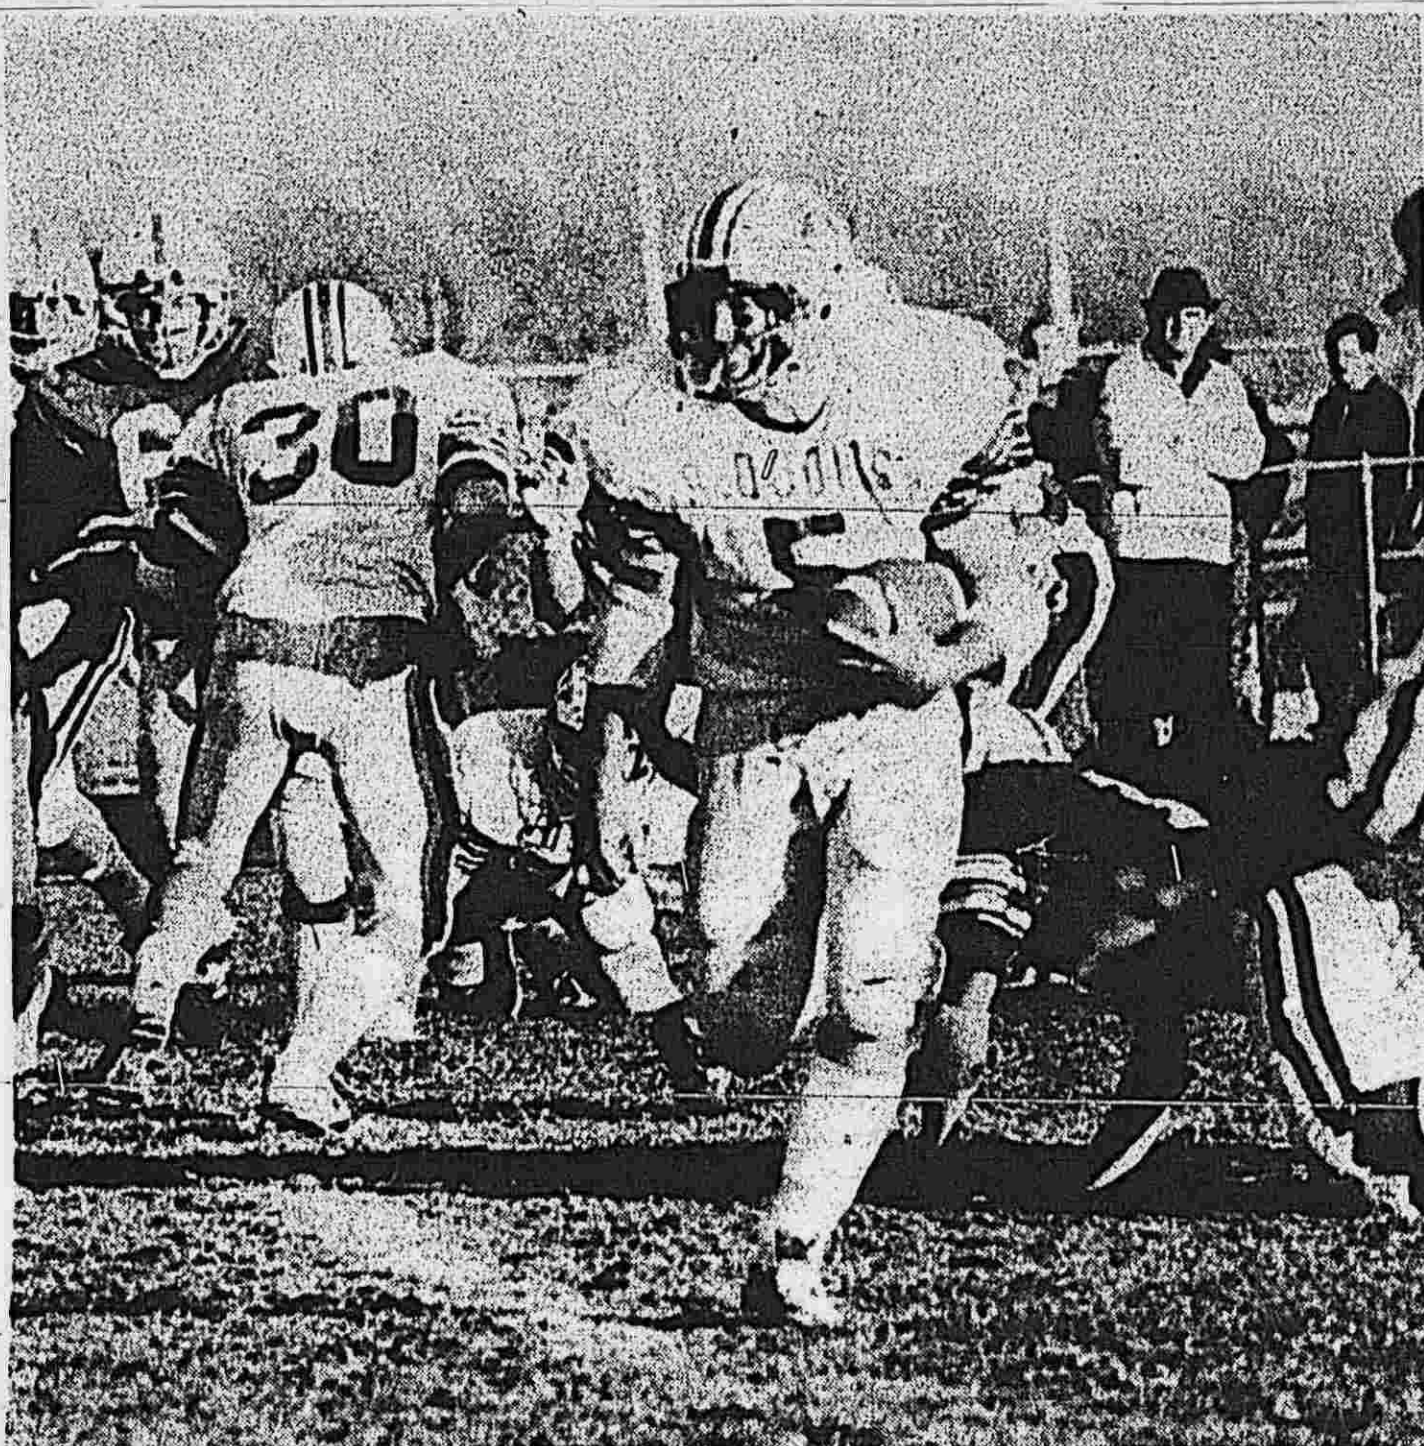

The teams were judged on timing, voice, introduction, presentation to audience and ending. "Congratulations to all the Vikings on a winning season and a year of great competition and good football," he added.

The Antioch Vikings Junior Tackle Football League will hold its Awards Banquet Nov. 27 at the Antioch Community High School with all team members, coaches, cheerleaders and their families invited.

Coaches from the Antioch Community High School Football teams, state semi-finals, will be guest speakers. Individual awards and team awards will be presented.

AAA offers tips on cutting gas usage

Cutting back on driving mileage can be relatively simple and not as inconvenient as many motorists may think, according to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club, which is offering some guidelines for curtailing mileage.

"President Carter's recently suggested 15-mile-per-week cutback need not be viewed as a hard-and-fast rule," said Nels L. Pierson, AAA-CMC president.

"Rather, it should be looked on as a guideline." Pierson suggested that some drivers may be able to average even greater cutbacks over longer periods of time.

"Altering vacation plans, putting off the purchase of an unnecessary second car or switching to a more mileage-efficient one are among the best ways to accomplish significant mileage savings in a single step," he explained.

For drivers interested in curtailing daily, weekly or monthly driving, the AAA-CMC suggests recording all trips and applicable mileages in a given period of time. It is then easy to determine which trips might have been combined with others, which could have involved public transportation and which might have been eliminated altogether.

A mileage log puts drivers in a better position to set a mileage "budget," putting extra dollars in their pockets and saving fuel at the same time.

Other "gas watcher" tips from the AAA-CMC include the following:

Whenever possible, carpool or use public transportation to get to work, even once or twice a week;

Combine family errands, shopping trips and the like to avoid a lot of running back and forth;

Schedule routine medical and dental appointments for more than one member of the family at the same time;

Carpool with neighbors for shopping, errand-running, taking the kids to school, even evening classes, whenever possible;

Try to handle all shopping at one shopping center to avoid driving from one location to another. Comparison shopping can be done by phone or through newspaper ads;

When combining trips and errands, figure the most mileage-efficient route;

Be sure your teenagers really need the car when they ask for it. Encourage them to do more double-dating. Plan your own social activities around carpooling, too, whenever practical;

Cut down on trips to see friends in other parts of the community. Call instead;

Reconsider those spur-of-the-moment local pleasure rides. Why not try a nature walk, bike ride or even a bus ride to a local museum or recreational site instead?

Take a serious look at vacation plans. Consider a beach or mountain resort where you won't need your car as much to get around. Use publicly offered sight-seeing transportation or sightsee on foot;

Think twice every time you get behind the wheel. Is the trip necessary? Is there a better way to get where you are going? Could you carpool or invite someone to share the ride?

Letters To The Editor

SEQUITTS SAY BIG THANKS

Editor,
On behalf of the Antioch Community High School Football Coaching Staff members, Tom Baba, Rich Brown, Ted DeRousse, Mike Gordy, Roy Nelson, Del Pechauer and Steve Scott, along with the 1979 Sequoit Varsity Football Team, I would like to say thank you to our entire community for its warm and enthusiastic support during the 1979 Football season!

The Antioch High School Administration has been great in their excellent organization and supervision of the season — along with the many extra hours that were necessary for successful pep assemblies, the quarter-final game against Jacobs, the away games at Rockford Boylan and Wheaton North, along with all of the little things that have to be done for a smooth operating season.

The Sequoit Marching Band, Color Guard, Pom-Pon Girls and Cheerleaders and their sponsors have added the color and excitement that makes football in the fall a truly habit-forming experience. The great response of the Wheaton North fans is positive evidence that Antioch is state-rated not only in Football, but in ability to present "state-rated" half-time performances!

The Village of Antioch officials, and business community has been fantastic! Each member of our team is greatly appreciative of the Go Sequoits signs and spirit decorations that were such a great part of the downtown area these past several weeks.

The send-off given to our team was only overshadowed by the reception waiting after the Wheaton North football game. Our team players will never forget the enthusiasm and warmth shown as they returned to Antioch from Wheaton. We will also never forget the 14 buses and the huge throng of people that took time to come out and cheer on the 1979 Sequoits.

There have been so many people who have called or sent good wishes. It would be impossible to thank each individual by name. There have also been so many dedicated Antioch High School staff members, parents and students that have traveled through the 1979 season with us rain or shine. We can only say thank you!

We dreamed of being the IHSA State Champions and didn't quite make it. If there was a State Championship for community support and involvement, the 1979 winner would be Antioch, Illinois!

Steve Wapon, Coach, ACHS Football P.S. Keep an eye on the up-and-coming Sequoits of the future. The Antioch Vikings have won two more Championships in 1979. Congratulations to their fine coaches and players.

Editor:

We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the Antioch Sequoit football team on its fantastic season. Finishing among the top four teams in the state is certainly something of which to be proud!

We would also like to commend the students for their enthusiastic support and good sportsmanship. You were terrific!

There was one thing, however, that disgusted us. As we left the game we noticed an abundance of beer cans and booze bottles under the bleachers of one area of the adult section. We feel this behavior was uncomplimentary and embarrassing to the school. The principal, Mr. Art Blecke, made a special telephone call to Wheaton North to apologize. This athletic contest was a school event. Would you act similarly at a school concert or play?

If you really wanted to support our team, why didn't you ride the school's spectator buses? If you wanted to drink, why didn't you stay home where you could drink all you want while listening to the game on the radio?

High school students certainly don't need this kind of example. If you come to future high school events, please leave the booze at home.

Concerned Parents
And Loyal Fans

Editor:

An open letter to the village of Antioch, Mayor Haley, Walter Shepard, Chief Chuck Miller, Chief David Heath, Chief Tod Maplethorpe, of the rescue, fire, police departments, village employees, the Antioch Viking Football Program and Antioch Community High School Football Mothers.

The ACHS Athletic Dept. and the high school wish to thank the many people of the village, village administrators, and the special groups that helped us so much in staging our quarter-final Illinois High School Assn. Football play-off game.

With the hard work, cooperation of the many people, especially of these groups, our day was a great success.

The many tasks that were undertaken and completed by these groups contributed to make the play-off game run smoothly. Again, we wish to give a great big thank you for all the help, cooperation and encouragement.

Lastly, a thank you to all those who helped that we may have omitted.

Helen Keller's struggle given insight by PM&L

by JANE POLZIN

The PM&L Theatre Players captured Helen Keller's mental and physical struggle to learn in a fascinating performance of "The Miracle Worker."

The play opened with the horror of Helen's parents learning of their daughter's blindness and deafness. Excellent stagecraft gave the opening scene the feeling of a southern family portrait taken during the late 1800's.

The second play in the theatre's 19th season will continue Nov. 23, 24, 30 and Dec. 1 at the PM&L Theatre. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

FRANK GREENWOOD played Capt. Keller, Helen's tough yet soft-hearted father. Her mother Kate was played by Anne Marie Cina, who wrapped her arms around the part, showing the mother's undying love and hope for the young child.

Debbie Beno, portraying Helen, was convincing in the challenging and difficult role of the young girl whose physical appetites were predominant while her intellectual potential went unacknowledged.

Portraying Helen, Beno had the challenge of presenting Helen's brilliance with realistic crude determination.

AT THE SAME time, she portrayed Helen's physical and mental groping faithfully while making the character believed and understood by the audience.

She is credited for a well-balanced and untried performance, capturing the raw emotion and desperate struggle of Helen's will to learn.

The spunky and tenacious Miss Sullivan, Helen's determined and dedicated teacher, was played by Lyn Kessie with an optimum performance.

Michael Mitchell played Helen's kibitzing and verbally bothersome brother, who made a hit with the audience for his portrayal of the teenager's humor.

A realistic and creative set brought the play home to a pleased audience.

A well which actually pumped water provided interesting scenery and symbolized the life-giving quality of its substance, which was parallel to Helen's ability to understanding the meaning of the words she had been imitating.

St. Peter's to hold bazaar, book sale

51 complete Jaycee hunter safety course

The Antioch Jaycees recently completed the Daisy/U.S. Jaycee Shooter Education Course.

The seven week program was offered free of charge to boys and girls from ages eight to 14. This community service project was run by using money collected from Antioch Jaycee fund-raising projects, such as Highway Hold-Up, Haunted House and Las Vegas Night.

Craig Dayton, co-chairman of the project said,

Warriors announce officers

The second meeting of the Sequoit Warriors 4-H Club was held at the home of their leader, Carolyn Van Patten. There were 14 members present.

The new officers are President Mike Hamlin, Vice President Jeff Van Patten, Treasurer Eric Van Patten, Secretary Renee Hallwas, Reporter Brad Hamlin and callers are David Hallwas and Jenny VanPatten.

The returning members received their awards and premium money for the 1979 fair. A talk was given by Eric Van Patten on leather craft.

The next meeting will be held at the State Bank of Antioch Dec. 6. There will be a talk and slides on Switzerland by Clint Beake.

"This is the first time the Antioch Jaycees have run this project and the program's success is directly related to its four basic ingredients: education, safety, enjoyment, and competition."

The Antioch Jaycees would like to thank the Antioch community and the parents of the young shooters for their support and participation."

The final session of the course was parent's night. Students demonstrated their skills and knowledge of proper gun handling, gunology, and rules and procedures for air rifle competition at five meters.

At the close of the program, gold, silver and bronze medals were awarded to the top scoring shooters in each age group.

Scores were a combination of both the written test and the shooting competition.

The fifty-one young shooters completing the program were each awarded Jaycee Certificates of Merit, specially designed hunter safety orange Antioch Jaycee Shooting Education t-shirts, and gift certificates from the Kodiak gun shop in Antioch.

The Antioch Jaycees will offer the program again after the first of next year. At the end of that course, shooters will be chosen to compete for a team to be entered in state and national competition with other Jaycee teams.

For more information about the Antioch Jaycees call R.J. Utterback at 395-2700.

YOUNG PERSONS IN INDUSTRY

Early start in sales field is head start for Taylor

(Editor's note: Following is the third story in a series acknowledging the efforts of young people in industry in the Antioch area. It is written in cooperation with the Industrial Committee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.)

by JANE POLZIN

Ron Taylor got an early start in business — he was a salesman at his father's shoe store when he was 12.

Now he is vice president and national sales manager of Sunrise Corp., a national distributor of motorcycle accessories and retail office and industrial supplies.

Taylor "grew up in the retail sales field," with his father's shoe store and his mother's children's wear shop.

Finding sales rewarding, he is happy to have the opportunity of meeting "many, many different people."

A 1963 GRADUATE of Antioch Community High School, Taylor managed various Kinney Shoe Stores in the area before serving in the Army.

He continued pursuing a career in sales after he was discharged, owning and operating his mother's store. He sold it to enter the wholesale sales field.

Taylor now takes an active part in directing the company's sales campaign, which uses national advertising, direct mail, telephone sales and the media to make sure "we gain the results that we want."

Emphasizing customer contact by phone and personal visits, he also helps with advertising programs, sales product training for customers and sales training for Sunrise employees.

"WE'VE BEEN QUITE successful," he said, reflecting on the company's five years in existence. Sunrise, located at 23 North Ave., sells its products in 30 states and has won many national sales awards, he added.

The company will be opening an office supply warehouse showroom in the recently-acquired Antioch Bargain Barn next door.

A background in sales and a "sincere desire for success," have helped to make him a success, he said.

"It takes a lot of drive, a lot of hard work," he added. Taylor has been developing himself "with a mental and physical attitude toward success."

"There is no question — you have to want to get ahead and prove yourself."

DESCRIBING HIMSELF as a sales professional, Taylor explained that there are no born salesmen, just as there are no born doctors or lawyers.

He said he is at "one level of a learning career and is constantly striving for new frontiers in that field."

Learning much of what he knows about sales through experience and reading, he has also taken some specialty courses "from many different universities in the U.S."

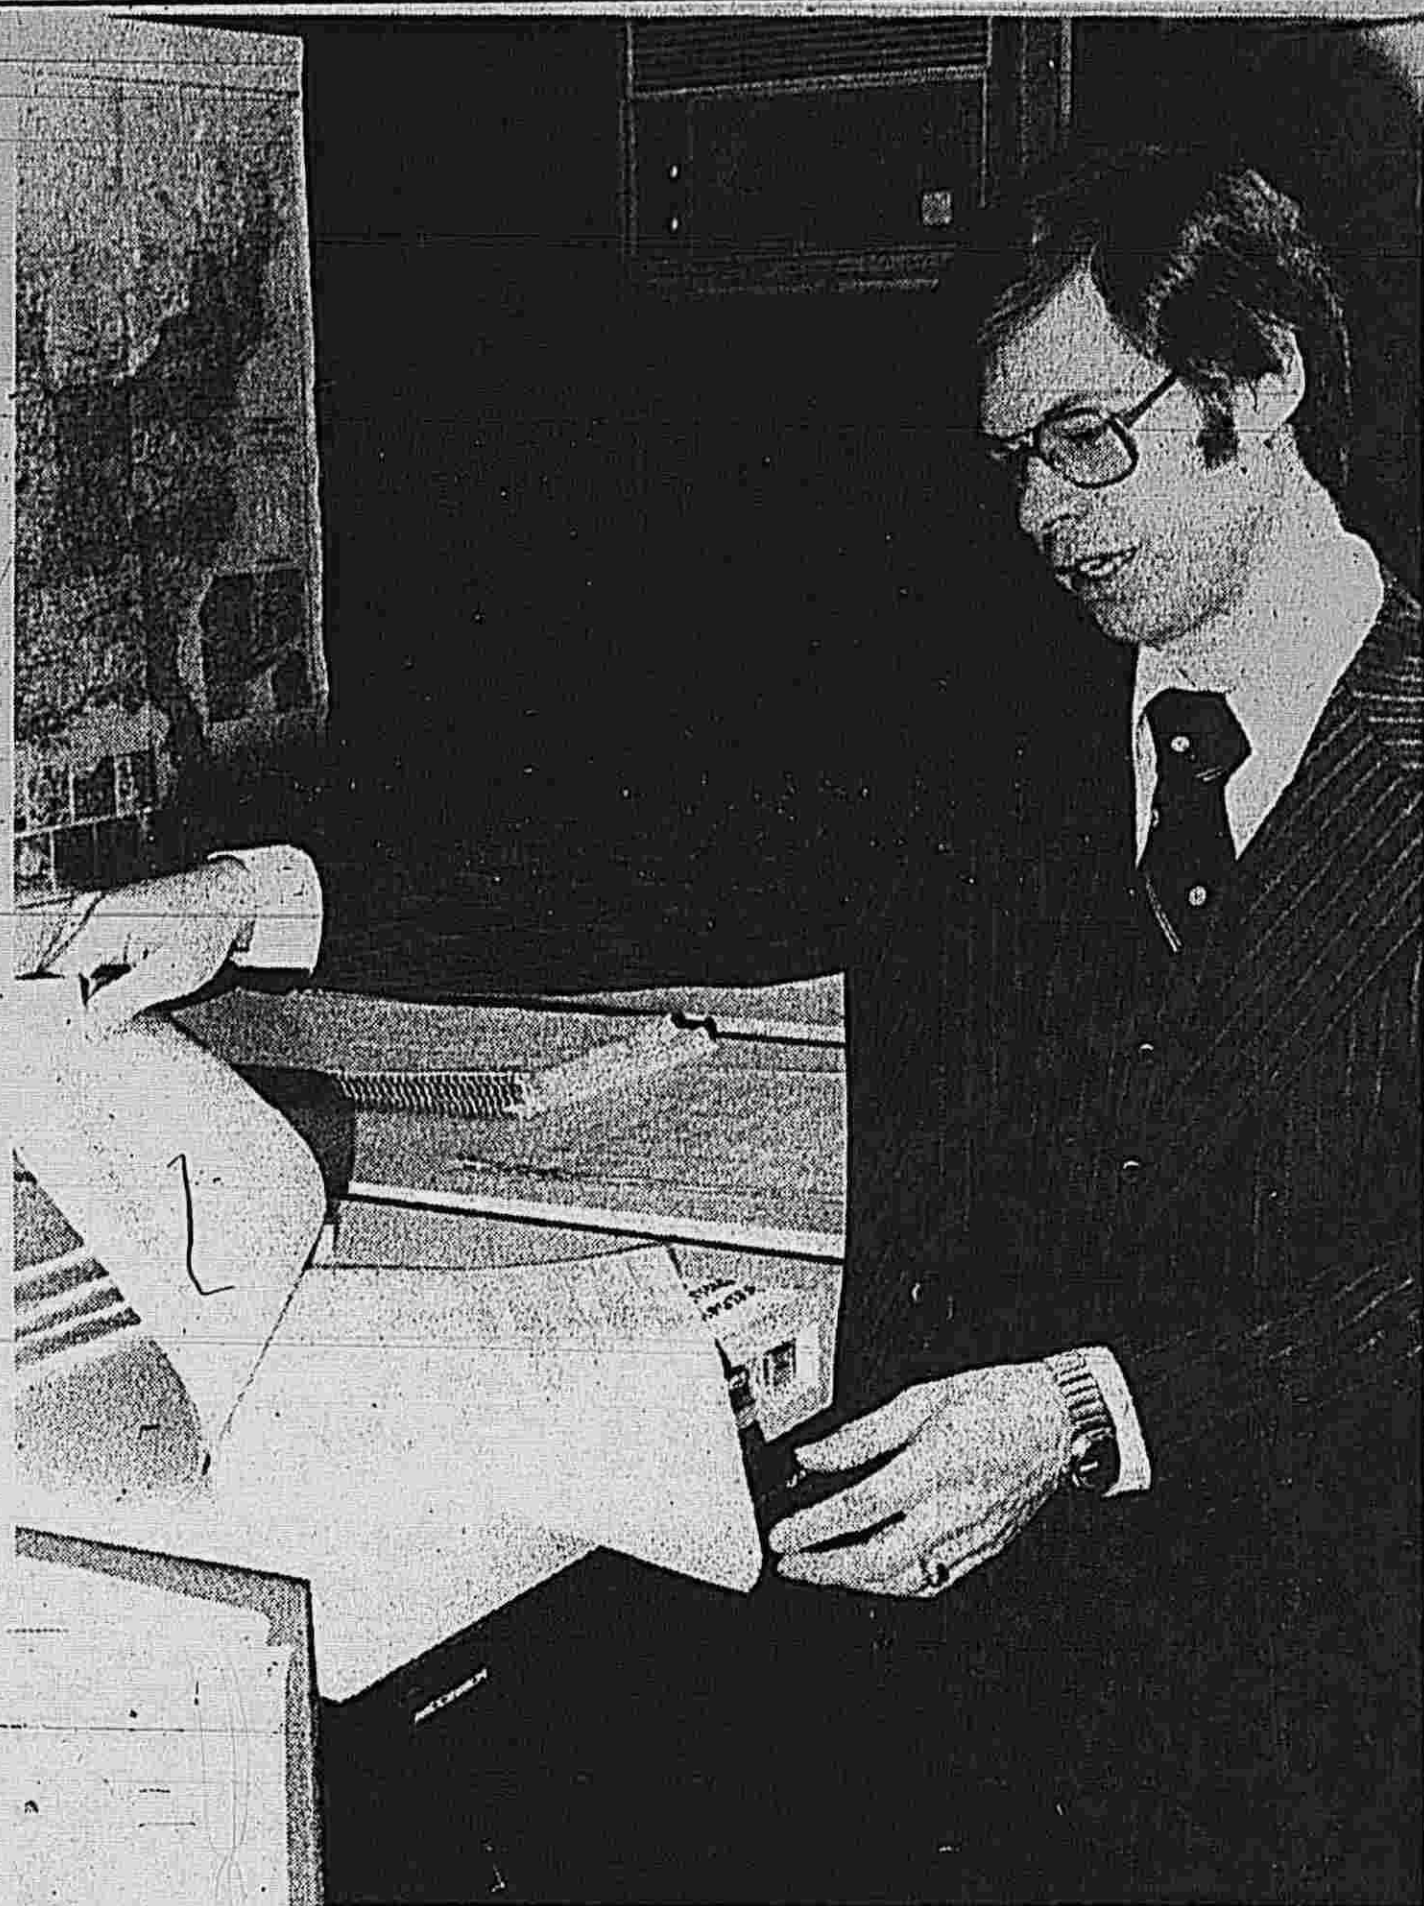

He spends most of his spare time with his family. An outdoor enthusiast, he enjoys hunting, fishing, boating and camping.

HE ALSO LIKES to play racquetball and ride his motorcycle, having once belonged to a motocross racing club in Antioch.

As a racer, he "enjoyed being under pressure, working with stress and the overall competitiveness in motocross competition. Win, lose or draw," he added, "it's fun."

He is a member of the Antioch Township Republican Club and the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

A life-long Antioch resident, he lives just outside of the village with his wife Kathy and six-month-old daughter, Kelly Ann.

Children sought for nursery

The students in Lucille Hacht's child care and career classes at Antioch Community High School are happy to announce that they will be conducting a preschool nursery as a portion of their child study program.

For this activity, preschool children living within the high school district will be needed. Three, four or five year olds may be enrolled in the program by picking up an enrollment form from the high school receptionist or by calling Miss Hacht.

This school will begin at 8:55 and end at 10:45 a.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from Nov. 26 to Jan. 10. Parents must provide transportation to and from the high school and pay a $3.50 fee for class materials. Enrollment will be limited to provide the best learning situation for all those involved.

The child care students will be nursery school teachers and aids under the supervision of Miss Hacht. Activities will include language, rhythm, color, movement, and physical activities. Small science projects will also be included.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

How can a person be sure an insurance company will be able to pay its claims?

Insurance companies are part of a highly regulated industry. Most regulations are self-imposed to guard against a financial crisis. Also, a supervised investment portfolio stating where and how the companies are investing their money is required by the states in which they operate. Most companies reserve a portion of their surplus to cover any investment or mortality losses or any type of operating contingency which might arise. A portion of this contingency reserve must be in liquid or near liquid form.

"Look For The Bright Red Awning"

Seek candidates for Miss Antioch

Antioch is ready for the second annual Miss Antioch Pageant to select that "special someone" who will represent the northern Lake County region at the Miss Illinois contest in Aurora July 17-19, 1980 and, hopefully, the Miss America contest in Atlantic City in September, 1980.

A committee comprised of chamber members and other Antioch residents, assisted by Illinois Pageant Coordinator Jack Collins, is organizing the event which will be held March 29, 1980, at Antioch Community High School.

After a very successful first pageant last year, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry is once again sponsoring the search for candidates for the contest, which awards thousands of dollars in scholarship prizes at the state and national level.

Marlo Good, chairman of this year's event, said that young women 17 to 26 years of age, living, working or going to school in northern Lake County (including the southern boundaries of Wauconda, Vernon Hills and Lake Forest) are eligible to enter. Applicants may never have been married or have had a child.

Contestants will be judged not only by appearance, but by their interview, talent and the way they present themselves. Singing, dancing, playing an instrument, giving a speech or dramatic presentation — anything a girl does well can be presented as a trained or potential talent.

Each contestant will be judged in a private interview, in evening gown, in swimsuit and in talent presentation. Judging of the candidates will be based on the same values as those considered at the Miss Illinois Pageant and the National Miss America Pageant.

"I am certain that we have a Miss America in this region," said Bill Groening, co-chairman and we're hoping that she will enter our Miss Antioch pageant. It is a real opportunity for the many young women in the Lake

The cost of the Sequoia is $10. It can be ordered from Kathy Brown, Yearbook Assistant at 395-1421.

County area who have taken the time to learn and develop a special talent and wish to further their education by taking advantage of the scholarship awards."

Applications may be made in person at the Chamber of Commerce office, 880 1/2 Main St., or by mailing the completed application to the same address. For more information, please call the Chamber office at 395-3381, Marlo Good, chairman at 395-2465, or Bill Groening at 395-2700.
